

I do not want anybody calling my home for solicitation of any kind. If I want to change my service, or enhance a service I currently have then I will do so on my own. Send me advertisements via mail, but leave my phone alone!!! If you can't get your business from word of mouth or advertisements, then too bad. There is no need for them to call my house and bug me. Maybe if they do start, then I will consider changing my services to one who won't call and bug me.
